I've discovered the perfect family retreat.

This 1990's built home captures the essence of rural tranquility yet has the convenience of proximal urban facilities. Positioned away from the road, this well designed property features spacious interior awash with light. Large picture windows accentuate the rural views whilst doors open to create an easy flow to the private alfresco living.

Well maintained throughout, this home benefits from it's functional family floor plan that includes four bedrooms, two bathrooms, two living areas and a studio type unit in the attached double garage. Great for guests or the teenage family.
