3  1  2

One owner has moved out and the other doesn't want to be in such a large home on their own. Here is an opportunity for those wanting sunshine and space, inside and out. I've been told to bring an offer, "I want to move on too".

Set back off the road for security and safety, the 997m² (approx.) section is fenced and safe for children to play and expel their energy in the fresh air. Inside they can spread out and have their own space across any of the three levels of the home.

An easy care split level home that offers an exciting new look to the standard 1970's home design. Light filled living of the upper level offers families a time to chat and catch up on their day or oversee homework, whether that's at the breakfast bar, casually on the couch or sitting on the deck. A kitchen that is the hub of this home with an on-trend
