If now is the time to be looking for a property with potential, few can match this cute three bedroom cottage.

For a start, it sits on a large and flat 1843m² (approx.) section in the heart of lovely, leafy and popular Pirongia, with all the village offers just a short stroll away.

It also features an open-plan kitchen, living and dining area, not to mention three bedrooms and the bathroom.

This home will make a fantastic canvas for a buyer with the right touch and could easily be transformed into something very special. In fact, some of that work has already been started with a tasteful partial repaint and new carpet.

Your sprawling lawn is ripe for inspiration and with Pirongia's famously rich soil you will have a glorious
